Who We Are ?

The Bellwether Digest is a one-stop shop for content that teaches, informs and inspires. It was birthed after the realization that there is a gap. The 'why did they not teach us this in school' gap. We provide premium written and visual content covering what you need to know about the world around you and how to get ahead. Knowledge is power and what better way to spread it than through the art of conversation.

We are a youth-driven organization, capturing the best and the brightest to prepare the best and the brightest. The bellwether is a leader. The bellwether is a trendsetter.
